Welcome Week Media Pack

2023

Introduction

Welcome Week at the University of Liverpool is bursting with activity and buzz around campus with new and returning students excited to meet new people, get involved with activities and discover brands; making the marketing opportunities at the start of the academic year some of the most valuable.

Each year we introduce 7,000 new students to campus, and welcome back 18,000 to continue their studies. We have a range of marketing channels available during this period, giving you a great opportunity to raise brand awareness and create lifelong customers. We have an array of additional opportunities aside from those detailed in this pack so, whatever your marketing objectives, we have the channels to connect you with our students.
